An island of flowers and limestone caves! [Okinoerabujima Route]

Okinoerabujima has a circumference of approximately 60 km. You can go around it in one day. There are few ups and downs along the coast, making it perfect for riding while feeling the sea breeze! There are over 300 limestone caves of various sizes on the island, so caving tours are also popular, allowing you to feel like you're exploring.

Wadamari Port

Wadamari Port is located on the northeast coast of Okinoerabujima and is one of the gateways from the sea. Free Wi-Fi is available in the passenger terminal waiting area.

Jikkyonuhu(Spring Water Spot)

This spring water, located in the center of the community, has supported the lives of the inhabitant by washing vegetables, doing laundry, and for irrigation. It had a strong significance as a place for community interaction, especially until the water supply was installed, and conservation efforts are still being carried out today.

Yakomo Beach

This is a swimming beach designated by the China town, where a coral reef spreads out between the white sand beach and the reef, and on clear days, you can see Yoron Island and the main island of Okinawa on the horizon. There are some places where river water flows from upstream, so you can cool down with the cold water. A shower and toilet are also available.

Kasaishi Beach Park

At Kasaishi Beach Park, you can see subtropical plants throughout the four seasons. There is also an observatory deck in the park that overlooks the entire area, and from the top floor you can enjoy the contrast between the blue ocean and the plants that spread out over the reef. From mid-April to early May, the fields in the park are covered in "Erabu Lilies," creating a spectacular landscape that looks like a carpet of pure white.

Fucha

A vertical cave formed by the erosion of a coral reef by rough waves on a steep cliff opens up, and during seasonal winds or typhoons, the tide can blow up 20 to 70 meters. From the cave, you can see an impressive sight of the deep blue sea swirling around you as if you could be sucked into it.

Shrimp dishes Saigo Shokudo(Restaurant)

This is an island seafood restaurant where the owner dives into the sea to catch fresh seafood such as spiny lobsters and nocturnal shellfish. Inside the store, there is a large fish tank containing spiny lobsters, Asahi crabs, nocturnal shellfish, moray eels, etc., so you can enjoy it with your eyes as well.

Hanzaki

A scenic spot with steep cliffs on the north side of the island. From the flat cape with its wide expanse of grass, you can enjoy an outstanding view with a sense of openness. The sunset here is a spectacular sight, especially from spring to summer, and if the clouds are clear, you can see a sunset that will leave you speechless.

Tamina Cape

It is a 51m high cliff with a raised coral reef, and the view of the cobalt blue ocean looking down from the cliff that juts out into the East China Sea and the rough scenery of the white waves washing the rocks is spectacular. You may even see wild sea turtles looking up from the water.
